

CREATIVETIME

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MEDIA CONTACT

Nicholas Weist, Creative Time
nickw@creativetime.org
212.206.6674 x205

Creative Time and P.S.1 Contemporary Art Center present:

CREATIVE TIME OPEN DOOR AT P.S.1

January 23-24, 2010, 12 to 6 pm

P.S.1, 22-25 Jackson Ave at the intersection of 46th Ave

AN OPEN CALL FOR ARTISTS TO PROPOSE PUBLIC PROJECTS TO CREATIVE TIME AND P.S.1 CURATORS

(December 16, 2009; New York, NY) P.S.1 Contemporary Art Center and Creative Time, the New York public art organization, announce Creative Time Open Door at P.S.1, an open call for New York-based artists to propose projects for the public realm, as part of P.S.1's Free Space program. Artists are invited to submit proposals at <http://creativetime.org/programs/opendoor/index.html> through January 15, and will be notified if they are scheduled for a review by January 21. After an initial review by the Creative Time curators, 35 artists will be offered 15-20 minute, private portfolio reviews conducted by the curators from both institutions, on January 23 and 24, at P.S.1. The program offers an opportunity for artists to get feedback on specific projects for the public realm.

Artists may send proposals for projects in any stage of development for review at Creative Time Open Door at P.S.1, 22-25 Jackson Ave, Long Island City, NY, 11101. Artists who are selected to participate will present their projects for ten minutes each, followed by a discussion with curators about their ideas and instructive feedback on resources, opportunities, and critical relevance.

Participating curators from Creative Time include Nato Thompson, Chief Curator, and Meredith Johnson, Curator and Director of Consulting; from P.S.1, Klaus Biesenbach, Director, and Neville Wakefield, Senior Curatorial Advisor; and from MoMA, Connie Butler, Robert Lehman Foundation Chief Curator of Drawing. Artists who are not offered a review are able to apply for Creative Time's regularly scheduled Open Door program, which occurs every two months. Only New York-based artists are eligible to apply.

Creative Time Open Door at P.S.1 is an extension of Creative Time's ongoing Open Door program, which began in 2003 as a resource for artists seeking guidance for realizing their public art projects. Through the program, artists benefit from the organization's expertise in public art production by meeting with Creative Time staff members to discuss the obstacles inherent in creating art for the public realm. Open Door is an invaluable resource for artists seeking to take the next steps to independently realize their projects.

CREATIVETIME

Free Space is a new collaborative initiative with artists and nonprofit arts institutions in which P.S.1 provides use of its gallery space for exhibitions, events, rehearsals, and other live presentations. A critical element of the project requires organizations and artists to develop programming to engage the public based on their use of the space. Bringing together the New York arts community during a time of economic challenge, several groups and artists are invited to use P.S.1 as a site for artistic exploration and development. Past participants include Marina Abramovic, Kalup Linzy and Printed Matter.

ABOUT CREATIVE TIME

Creative Time Open Door at P.S.1 deepens Creative Time's artist-centered mission, and commitment to helping artists broaden their practices and realize big opportunities. Creative Time's recent projects include PLOT09: This World & Nearer Ones, New York's first public art quadrennial; Spencer Finch's The River That Flows Both Ways on the High Line; Tribute in Light, which served as a gesture of hope and healing after 9/11; and Doug Aitken: Sleepwalkers, a film projected on the Museum of Modern Art, NY. Creative Time has worked with over 1,400 of the world's most dynamic artists in its 35-year history, and Creative Time: The Book was published on the occasion of the institution's 33rd birthday, exploring each of its projects presented since 1974.

ABOUT P.S.1

P.S.1 Contemporary Art Center is one of the largest and oldest organizations in the United States solely devoted to contemporary art. Established in 1976 by Alanna Heiss, P.S.1 originated from The Institute for Art and Urban Resources, a not-for-profit organization founded five years prior with the mission of turning abandoned, underutilized buildings in New York City into artist studios and exhibition spaces. P.S.1 became an affiliate of The Museum of Modern Art in 2000.

SUPPORT

Creative Time is funded through the generous support of corporations, foundations, government agencies, and individuals. We gratefully acknowledge public funding from the New York City Department of Cultural Affairs; the New York State Council on the Arts, a State agency; New York City Council Speaker Christine C. Quinn; and New York State Senator Thomas K. Duane. The official hotel partner of Creative Time is The Standard.